FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

My Dear Parishioners,

The four great seasonal Marian antiphons come from the Divine Office, office of Compline, the last of the sung hours of the day. At the close of Compline, one of the four seasonal Marian prayers was sung: Alma Redemptoris Mater, Ave Regina Caelorum, Regina Caeli, or Salve Regina.

Today the Divine Office is known as the Liturgy of the Hours, and Compline has become "Night Prayer". Today there is a choice of those four hymns or a few others, including the Hail Mary. Traditionally, at Compline, the Latin anthem was followed by seasonal declamations and a prayer. When sung at the conclusion of Mass, only the anthem is sung.

In our church, the seasonal anthem is sung on Sundays throughout the year at the conclusion of Mass. Frank Hydash and a cantor lead the chanting. This custom is retained in many churches and cathedrals on Christmas (Alma Redemptoris) and Easter (Regina Caeli), as was seen in the Masses at the Vatican this past year.

Each anthem has a beautiful text; each chant is quite melodic. This is a tradition we at St. Philip's very much treasure. These texts have been set to music for choirs by many composers over the ages, most notably Palestrina.

The Salve Regina has also been credited to Herimann the Lame (Hermanus Contractus), monk of Reichenau, but it is also attributed to Adhemar de Monteil (+1098) and Saint Bernard (+1153). It is sung as a seasonal anthem from the day after Pentecost Sunday until the first Sunday of Advent. As a spoken prayer, it has also been added to the conclusion of the rosary, so it is perhaps the most familiar of these four texts to Catholics.

Salve Regina, mater misericordiae, vita, dulcedo, et spes nostra salve. Ad te clamamus, exules filii Evae. Ad te suspiramus, gementes et flentes, in hac lacrimarum valle. Eia ergo, advocate nostra, illos tuos misericordes oculos, ad nos converte. Et Jesum, benedictum fructum ventris tui, nobis post hoc exsilium ostende. O Clemens, o pia, o dulcis virgo Maria.

This early translation is by the Reverend Adrian Fortescue, 1913:

Hail Holy Queen, mother of mercy, hail our life, our sweetness, and our hope. To thee do we cry, poor banished children of Eve. To thee do we send up our sighs, mourning and weeping in this vale of tears. Turn then most gracious advocate, thine eyes of mercy towards us. And after this, our exile, show unto us the blessed fruit of thy womb, Jesus. O clement, o loving, o sweet Virgin Mary.

While parishes may not include the seasonal anthem each Sunday, it is to be recommended that the Regina Caeli be sung at Easter, and the Alma Redemptoris at Christmas Mass, and that the anthems be sung by choir and congregation sometime during the seasons.

These antiphons are treasures of our Church and Catholics should be aware of them and the translations. I hope this explains the Marian chats we have been singing/listening to for the past several years.

Peace,
Fr. Monteleone

Loved ones are remembered during all Masses celebrated during the month of November and their names will be placed by the statue of Mary in the church.

We invite you to write the names of your beloved, faithful departed relatives, and friends on the paper by the statue of Mary in the church and place your memorial intentions in the bowl provided. This will be available throughout the month of November.

ST. PHILIP PREPARATORY SCHOOL

The students in the 4th Grade at St. Philip Preparatory have been busy learning all the ins and outs of the Intermediate grades. They have put their best foot forward and adjusted quickly. They certainly love the switching of classes and it “makes the day go faster,” as most said.

The 4th graders are practicing their writing skills using technology to compose creative stories on space travel. What would it be like if we had the opportunity to go to space? Technology has also been utilized to research and write on such topics as the Etruscan shrew and the bumblebee bat. We compared them to the Big Blue Whale.

In 5th grade they did an exciting ancestry project in Social Studies where they asked their families about their cultural backgrounds. The research papers were typed and dolls were made representing the different heritages. The projects were presented to their peers. We connected it across curriculums to Reading class where we read about Chinese culture coming through Ellis Island. Next up, American Native American Culture! Exciting times in Intermediate!

WE ARE HIRING!

Saint Philip Preparatory School is currently accepting resumes from qualified teachers for various grade level positions.

In addition, we are in need of people to help with our After Care school program,
(Monday – Friday 3PM-6PM.)

Anyone interested in either position kindly send your resume or call the school office, 973-779-4700.

Thank you for your support.
