Memorial of
Our Lady of the Rosary

The Rosary is a simple yet powerful prayer that draws us closer to Jesus through the loving intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mary. As we meditate on its mysteries, let us entrust to God the places in our lives most in need of healing, reconciliation, and peace.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

My Dear Parishioners,

Parables are often puzzling and intended to get under your skin. This Sunday's parable is no exception.

The parable's setting is a vineyard, which in the words of Sunday's Responsorial refrain, symbolizes "the house of Israel": that is, the great mass of God's chosen People; or in other words, the "Family of God".

Within the vineyard are several actors. The parable's landowner symbolizes God. The tenants symbolize those at whom Jesus is aiming the parable: that is, those whom God had entrusted with the care of the vineyard. So, if the vineyard is Israel, then the tenants are the leaders of Israel. Among them are the chief priests and elders mentioned as Jesus' audience. Why, then, is Jesus trying to get under their skin? What does Jesus think that they're doing wrong?

You've all heard the saying, "Too many chiefs and not enough Indians." Likewise: "too many cooks spoil the broth." Those sayings get at the problem that Jesus was addressing. The leaders of Israel were no longer listening to the founder of Israel.

But who was the founder of Israel? Was it King David? Moses? Abraham? No, the founder of Israel is the Lord God of Hosts. The Psalmist says as much in today's Responsorial, when he cries out: "O Lord of Hosts ... take care of this vine and protect what your right hand has planted".

But the chief priests and elders had forgotten the place of the Lord in their lives. They thought that they were the masters of Israel, rather than its shepherds; that they were the landowners, rather than the tenants; that they were the lords of the manor, rather than the stewards. Jesus' parable warns them to be better stewards.

The action of the parable demonstrates just how topsy-turvy these stewards are. Believing that they're the masters of the situation justifies, in their minds, their beating and stoning of the landowner's messengers, and finally, their murder of his son. Of course, you and I know how this parable foreshadowed the events of Holy Week. The chief priests, elders, and other leaders of Israel are not willing to give up the claim to be masters. So, when they come face-to-face with Jesus, who is the rightful heir to the throne of Israel, there's bound to be conflict. Like the son in the parable, Jesus is seized and put to death. Jesus is the "stone that the builders rejected" which "has become the cornerstone".

At the end of today's Gospel Reading, Jesus—with divine fore-knowledge—foretells the consequence of Israel's rejection of Him. Jesus speaks formally and almost solemnly, declaring: "Therefore, I say to you, the kingdom of God will be taken away from you [,] and given to a people that will produce its fruit." Who is this new people?

This new people is the body of Jesus' followers: the Mystical Body of Christ. Jesus is the cornerstone of this new foundation. The Church that Jesus founded is the new Israel. This is the body of Christians to which you and I belong. Jesus was speaking of you and me when He foretold that the "kingdom of God [would] be... given to a people that will produce its fruit."

But the question in front of us today is whether we are producing spiritual fruit within the vineyard of the Church. The Church chose this parable for proclamation at this Sunday's Mass not so that you and I could learn a history lesson about the opposition that Jesus faced two thousand years ago. We hear this parable today in order to allow it to get under our skin.

Saying "Yes" to God's call isn't the same as bearing fruit. It's on the latter that God will judge us at the moment each of us dies. Merely belonging to Church doesn't mean entrance into Heaven. Maybe you and I are taking as much for granted as those elders and chief priests.

To make a good examination of conscience in this regard, and to consider how we might go forth and bear fruit in the Lord's vineyard, we might reflect on two questions this week. First how much time do we spend in the Lord's vineyard; and second, what does it mean to be a steward?

Peace,

Fr. Monteleone

ST. PHILIP PREPARATORY SCHOOL

This week, we welcomed our families to Saint Philip for Back to School Night! Parents had the opportunity to visit classrooms, meet our teachers, and hear more about our vision for the year ahead. We shared improvements already underway throughout the building, including the newly painted hallway in the Early Childhood wing, refreshed classrooms, and new ceiling and lighting in our Intermediate and Middle School wing. Families were also introduced to our new St. Philip Eagle mascot and our SOAR core values of Service, Ownership, Attitude, and Resilience, which will help guide our students throughout the year. We also shared some of our academic changes, plans for our new STEM cart, and the development of our Beyond the Bell after-school clubs. It was a great evening to share not only what is new at Saint Philip, but also where we are headed as a school.

Of course, our Eagles have been busy in the classrooms too! First grade is working with greater than, less than, and equal to, while second grade is learning about the Sacrament of Baptism. Third grade is exploring place value and learning what it means to be a scientist, and our Middle School students are working with plot diagrams, rational numbers, Hispanic Heritage Month, and more. From our youngest students to those preparing to take flight, we are excited to see our students continue to learn, explore, and put SOAR into action throughout the year.

COME WORK WITH US!

We are still seeking a Little Kaleidoscope Teacher for our gifted and talented program which is a part-time position. Teaching 3rd and 4th grade math and reading to our 1st and 2nd graders. 8 AM -12 PM Monday-Friday. If you or someone you know is interested in joining our team, please visit <https://rcdop.org/job-opportunities> to complete an application or contact the school office for more information.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

2026 "Coats for Kids" Drive

We will again be collecting contributions for our annual Coats-for-Kids Drive through Sunday Oct. 25. Last year, through the generosity of everyone we were able to give out over 200 warm winter coats to our less fortunate neighbors right here in Clifton. We'd love to surpass that this year as the need is still great. Coats cost us approximately $285 per box of 12 but all contributions, great or small, help out tremendously. Please make checks out to K of C Council 11671, note in the memo area: Coats 4 Kids and mail them to the address below or drop the envelope into the collection basket.
