Saints Simon and Jude

Apostles

Saints Simon and Jude were among the Twelve Apostles chosen by Jesus to proclaim the Gospel. Faithful to their calling, they dedicated their lives to spreading the Good News and bearing witness to Christ. Saint Jude is especially venerated as the patron saint of hopeless and difficult causes. Their example inspires us to remain steadfast in faith, courageous in mission, and trusting in God's providence.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

My Dear Parishioners,

One of the great blessings of my priesthood was spending my first three years at St. Joseph in Mendham, which had the oldest church building in our diocese that dates to 1853. I loved encountering the diversity of Mendham and soaking in the beauty of that magnificent chapel. But my favorite part was interacting with the abundant young children who made up the parish school and teaching them about the Church and our beautiful chapel. One of my favorite memories involved me giving a tour of the chapel in all its beauty, and one of the kids asking me, "Is this yours? Do you own it?" It was an understandable question, and I simply replied, "No, it belongs to all of us!"... to which the little boy gasped in amazement, and responded, "Wow... I'm rich!"

What a great response! He was confident that the treasures of the Church were his treasures as well! He was not annoyed or upset that money had been used to build a beautiful Church. Even in his youth, he was confident that a beautiful Church showed people's love for the Lord, and a desire to give their very best back to their Creator.

However, my favorite part of the chapel was not the beautiful altar or stencil work on the ceiling, but when the school children came to worship together as a class and bring a can of soup or vegetables for the Market Street Mission in Morristown.

This is exactly the rhythm intended by the Lord in our Gospel this weekend. At first glance, it seems strange that Jesus expresses that the first and greatest law is to love God with all your heart, soul, and mind. He is God, after all, so He's demanding that love for Him needs to come first? And loving everyone else comes after that? The modern world tells us something very different... be nice to your neighbor, and then, if you have extra time and resources, you can give them to God. But He would be upset if you wasted it on Him in the first place.

Jesus doesn't put love of the Lord as the first and greatest law because He is needy and annoyed when we love other things. He knows that if we don't return our best to our Creator, then nothing else makes sense. If I try to love other things without loving God, I quickly burn out and become bitter. Maybe I can love my neighbor in certain situations, but it quickly runs out and becomes stale. Because I am made in the image and likeness of God, my life will never make sense until I return my best to Him. Once I give God my whole heart, soul, and mind, everything else is unlocked. When I give God my very best, it isn't that I have less to give to others... I actually have more to give, because I am more connected to my Creator!

This is why beautiful Churches and Holy Hours are not wastes of resources and time, as the modern world tells us. They are the prerequisite to true service and self-gift. At the same time, a supposed love of the Lord that doesn't overflow into love of my neighbor is tragically lacking. One who truly gives their best to the Lord cannot help but overflow into service of neighbor. The two go hand in hand.

In the life of the Christian, there is no dichotomy between love of the Lord and love of neighbor. The two feed each other, and the quaint chapel and school children bringing food to the less fortunate are a powerful image of this. Am I giving the Lord my best? Or am I holding things back from my Creator? And does my love of the Lord send me out the back door into service and love of those in need? When we give the Lord our best, we are indeed rich, and we enrich the lives of all those around us.

Peace,
Fr. Monteleone

VIVERE CHRISTUS

Congratulations to Mrs. Debbie DeLuca! 2026 Vivere Christus Award Recipient

With great joy and gratitude, we congratulate Mrs. Debbie DeLuca, St. Philip the Apostle Parish's recipient of the 2026 Vivere Christus Award from the Diocese of Paterson! Debbie received this special recognition from Most Rev. Kevin J. Sweeney, Bishop of Paterson, on Sunday, October 18, 2026, at the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist in Paterson, New Jersey.

The Vivere Christus Award, meaning "To Live Is Christ" (Philippians 1:21), recognizes individuals throughout the Diocese of Paterson who have demonstrated exceptional dedication, faithful service, and a living witness to Christ within their parish communities.

For over 50 years, Debbie has been a faithful and devoted member of St. Philip the Apostle Parish. Together with her husband, Don, she has been actively involved in parish life, generously sharing her time, talents, and faith. For more than 20 years, Debbie has served as a Faith Formation catechist, helping generations of children come to know and love Jesus Christ. Her cheerful spirit, unwavering faith, and generous heart have been a true blessing to our parish family.

Debbie and Don are also blessed with their daughter, Kristen, and a grandson, who bring much joy to their family.

Congratulations, Debbie, on this well-deserved recognition! Your life of faith and service beautifully reflects the spirit of the Vivere Christus Award. We thank you for your many years of dedication and for reminding us, through your joyful example, what it truly means to live for Christ.

May God continue to bless you, Don, and your entire family. Your St. Philip parish family is truly blessed to have you!

ST. PHILIP PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Our classrooms were filled with curiosity and discovery this week! First graders explored the long /e/ sound and learned about sound waves in Science. Second and third graders studied Christopher Columbus, tracing his voyages and learning about the ships that carried him across the ocean. Third grade also began exploring the scientific method, investigating whether a permanent marker really lives up to its name! Fourth graders learned about the life and accomplishments of Leonardo da Vinci, while fifth grade explored variables during their STEM activities.

Faith continues to be an important part of our students' education. Our youngest Eagles learned about helping others and showing kindness through their Religion lessons. Sixth graders studied the saints and completed oral presentations, while seventh grade explored the Rosary. In Language Arts, students worked with figurative language and personal narratives. Our sixth-grade readers began Prisoner B-3087, a powerful historical novel about a young boy's experiences during the Holocaust, while eighth graders prepared for the HSPT and read Edgar Allan Poe.

From solving equations with variables in Math to learning about families, colors, and numbers in Spanish, our Eagles continued to build their knowledge and skills across the curriculum. It was another busy week at St. Philip Preparatory School!

COME WORK WITH US

St. Philip Preparatory School is still seeking a Little Kaleidoscope Teacher for our gifted and talented program which is a part-time position. Teaching 3rd and 4th grade math and reading to our 1st and 2nd graders. 8 AM -12 PM Monday- Friday.

If you or someone you know is interested in joining our team, please visit <https://rcdop.org/job-opportunities> to complete an application or contact the school office for more information.

GOD BLESS THE NEWLY BAPTIZED

FAITH NOTES

I Believe in the Communion of Saints

Every Sunday at Mass, we profess in the Creed: "I believe in the communion of saints." We say these words so regularly that we may easily overlook how beautiful they are. They remind us that the Church is greater than what we can see. Traditionally, the Church speaks of this one communion as the Church militant—we who are still making our pilgrimage and striving for holiness here on earth; the Church suffering—the faithful departed undergoing purification; and the Church triumphant—the saints who already rejoice in the glory of heaven. These are not three different Churches, but one Church, one Body of Christ. Death does not destroy this communion because in Christ, we remain united to one another.

This is worth remembering as we approach Halloween. Today, Halloween is largely a civil and commercial celebration—costumes, decorations, candy, parties, and plenty of things designed to frighten us. There is nothing necessarily wrong with enjoying these traditions. But as Catholics, we should remember that the very name Halloween comes from All Hallows' Eve, the evening before All Saints' Day. Rather than allowing the secular celebration to overshadow our faith, Halloween can actually become an opportunity to rediscover what these days are truly about.

On November 1, the Solemnity of All Saints, the Church turns our attention toward the Church triumphant. We celebrate not only the canonized saints whose names we know, but the countless men and women who now share the joy of eternal life with God. They remind us that holiness is not reserved for a select few. It is the vocation of every baptized Christian. The saints were ordinary human beings who allowed the grace of God to transform them, and their lives remind us, the Church militant, of what we ourselves are called to become.

Then, on November 2, the Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed—All Souls' Day, our attention turns in a particular way toward the Church suffering, especially the souls in purgatory. We remember our parents and grandparents, relatives and friends, parishioners and loved ones who have gone before us. But we do more than remember them. We pray for them. Our Catholic faith teaches us that the bonds of the Body of Christ continue beyond death. We offer Masses and prayers for the faithful departed, entrusting them to the mercy of God and praying for their purification and entrance into the fullness of heaven.

Seen this way, these three days belong together. Halloween reminds us of the saints; All Saints reminds us of our destiny; and All Souls reminds us of our responsibility to pray for those who have gone before us. Instead of allowing Halloween to be only about costumes, candy, and frightening images, we can quite literally make Halloween all about holiness.

Children—and even adults—can dress up as their favorite saints and learn the stories behind them. Families can discover a new saint together, talk about the faith and good values we received from loved ones who have died, visit a cemetery and pray for the faithful departed, have a Mass offered for a deceased loved one, or pray together for the souls in purgatory. In these simple ways, what has become largely a secular celebration can become an opportunity to strengthen and pass on our Catholic faith.

Perhaps these days give us an opportunity to take seriously once again those familiar words of the Creed: "I believe in the communion of saints." The Church militant, the Church suffering, and the Church triumphant are one family in Christ. In a culture that often treats death either with fear or avoidance, our faith teaches us to look at it with hope. We honor the saints because they show us where we are going. We pray for the dead because love does not end at the grave. And we continue our own journey of holiness, trusting that one day, by God's grace, we will all be gathered together in the eternal communion of His saints.

BIBLE STUDY

ISAIAH AND ADVENT: WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR?

A Biblical and Spiritual Journey through the Prophecies of Isaiah

Journey through the prophecies of Isaiah and discover the deeper meaning of Advent. This four-session Bible study explores God's promise of the Messiah, the hope of salvation, and the call to prepare our hearts for Christ. Through Scripture, we will come to appreciate Advent not simply as a preparation for Christmas, but as a season of faith, conversion, and joyful hope as we await the coming of our Savior.

FROM THE DIOCESE

You may have already heard that the New Jersey Catholic Conference has issued an “Action Alert” – see:

<https://www.votervoice.net/NJCC/Campaigns/139845/Respond> encouraging NJ Voters to contact Governor Sherrill’s Office, asking her to “Opt NJ Into the Federal Scholarship Tax Credit”.

As you are aware, if the Governor “opts in” there could be very significant scholarship funds available that would allow many more parents and families to choose to send their children to our Catholic schools. You can find additional information and resources on our Diocesan Website at:

<https://rcdop.org/federal-education-tax-credit>.

You might also be aware that, on this past Friday, Oct. 9th, Governor Kathy Hochul (officially) confirmed that New York will “opt in” on the Tax Credit program. Archbishop Hicks and the bishops of New York offered the following statement through the NY Catholic Conference:
